Methodists Ask Return of Dr. McClure if Church Law is Changed

WATCH, CHAIN PRESENTED

"Particularisms" Hit in Stirring Address By Dr. James Thomas

Conference regulations of the Methodist Episcopal church may be changed to permit Dr. Robert O. McClure, Columbus, to continue as superintendent of the Chillicothe district.

This was disclosed Tuesday afternoon when pastors and laymen attending the district conference in the local church, adopted a resolution thanking Dr. McClure for the splendid work he has done in the district and asking his return if the annual conference makes a change in present regulations.

Dr. McClure is serving his sixth year as district superintendent and under present regulations is prevented from serving a longer period.

Gifts Presented

A watch, chain and knife were presented to Dr. McClure Tuesday afternoon by pastors of the district. The presentation was made by Dr. W. S. Seaman, pastor of the Lancaster First M. E. church. Wives of the pastors presented a large bouquet of roses to Mrs. McClure.

"I feel sorry for any pastor who is not disturbed by present conditions," Dr. James Thomas, Columbus, told conference visitors. "One third of the people of the world are exploiting with the other two-thirds and that is the greatest danger on the horizon," he said. "Instead of universalism it's particularism. We're not slipping away from church standards, we're changing them."

Dr. Thomas urged pastors to

Methodist Men Choose Bennett; Assist Choir

Beaty, McCrady, Radcliff and Kibler Other Officers of Organization; Representative, Educator Talk

Carl Bennett, N. Court-st, superintendent of Washington-twp school, was elected president of the Methodist Men's club Tuesday evening, succeeding Dr. G. D. Phillips.

Other officers elected are Roy Beaty, vice president; Henry McCrady, secretary; Charles H. Radcliff, treasurer, and Franklin Kibler, corresponding secretary.

FIVE POINTS PROGRAM DEPENDS ON BERRIES

Residents of the Five Points community will meet in the school building June 10, if strawberries are ripe.

Members of the institute committee, meeting in the school building Tuesday evening to plan the affair, selected the tentative date and decided to have an ice cream-strawberry social.

The program for the meeting will include discussions on timely farm topics and entertainment features.

NEGRO GUARDED FROM LYNCHERS

Murder of White Girl Last March Confessed

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., April 29.—(UP)—National guardsmen dispersed with tear gas bombs today a crowd which gathered in the courthouse square during arraignment of Walter Miller, negro, charged with attacking and murdering a Huntsville white girl.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 29.—(UP)—A company of national guardsmen early today removed Walter Miller, 35-year-old negro, from the county jail here, to take him to court at Huntsville, Ala. Miller has allegedly confessed to the attack and murder of young Vivian Woodward at Huntsville last March.

Miller was to be arraigned at Huntsville today on charges of attack and murder, and then to be returned here to await trial.

Guardsmen made the transfer under cover of darkness. Authorities requested the escort of guardsmen as a precaution against possible attempts at seizure of the negro enroute to Huntsville. Feeling has run high in the city since authorities announced Miller's confession.

ETHIOPIA QUILTS CAPITAL, PILOTS FOR ITALY CLAIM

LONDON, April 29.—(UP)—An Exchange Telegraph correspondent with the northern Italian army in Ethiopia said Italian aviators believe that the Ethiopian government has moved its headquarters southward from Addis Ababa in the direction of the British Kenya colony border. The report was not confirmed.

ROME, April 29.—(UP)—Italian leaders believed today that the last barrier to the march of the Fascist legions on Addis Ababa had been removed.

Authoritative dispatches from general headquarters asserted that the Dedjazmatch Burra Amedei, chieftain in the Dessaye area, submitted to Gen. Alessandri Pirizolo-Birolli, commander of all native troops of Eritrea, with 10,000 of his men.

Marshall Pietro Badoglio announced in today's war Communiqué, No. 198, that one Italian motorized column on the way to Addis Ababa occupied Makfud, northwest of Ankober, and another forced the Mofor river west of Makfud.

MRS. SAGE SAILS

NEW YORK, April 29.—(UP)—Anna Sage, the "woman in red" who led department of justice men to John Dillinger, was deported today on the President Harding with the final admission that she did not feel the government had "double-crossed" her by sending her back to Rumania.

ROOSEVELT AND LANDON BACKED AS EAST VOTES

President Wins Important State's Delegates from Breckinridge

BAY AREA FOR KANSAN

Borah Receives Support; Results Bring Considerable Discussion

Copyright 1936 By United Press
Presidential preferential primaries in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania provided an abundance of fuel for political controversy today without furnishing conclusive evidence of political trends.

President Roosevelt and Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas swept their parties' "write in" preferential primaries in Massachusetts by approximately 20 to 1 and 10 to 1 respectively.

But, as their opponents were quick to point out, the primaries were not a formal race as the name of no candidate was printed on the ballot, the voter writing in whatever name he wished. Friends of Gov. Landon campaigned for him; other candidates for the Republican presidential nomination made no campaign.

Margin 20 to 1
In Pennsylvania, President Roosevelt met his first formal opposition in Col. Henry Breckinridge, New York lawyer, and overwhelmed him approximately 20 to 1.

But New Deal opponents contended that the president's majority should have been much greater because the staff Democratic organization had campaigned for him while Breckinridge made no campaign, not even a speech.

Sen. William E. Borah, running unopposed in the Republican primary, polled a substantial vote. His following said its size indicated the magnitude of Borah sentiment in the east. His opponents said it meant nothing since he had no opposition.

A scattered "write-in" vote for Gov. Landon was reported throughout the state.

REPUBLICANS UNPLEGGED

Both states elected delegates to the Republican and Democratic conventions along anticipated lines. The Republican delegates will be unpledged. The Democratic delegates will be pledged to President Roosevelt.

The Massachusetts delegates have 33 votes in the Republican convention; 34 in the Democratic. The Pennsylvania delegations have 75 votes in the Republican convention; 72 in the Democratic.

30 MILLIONS NEAR DEATH IN CHINESE INTERIOR, REPORT

SHANGHAI, April 29.—(UP)—Thirty million inhabitants of remote, mountainous Szechuan province on the Tibetan frontier are starving and have only grass and bark to eat, dispatches from the interior said today. Some people, desperate, were reported to be eating corpses.

Floods, droughts, earthquakes and communist warfare have combined to bring disaster to the province. Many thousands are seeking to migrate over the inadequate roads.

Dr. Ian MacDonald, attending Dr. Robertson, said that Robertson's strength gradually was improving. He is able to sit up and dictates his personal story of the experiences.

CLERK'S OFFICE CLOSING

The county clerk's office will be closed from 2 to 3 p. m. Thursday for the funeral of Mrs. Nettie C. Barnes, who died Monday in Berger hospital. George C. Barnes, a son, is deputy clerk of court. Services will be held in the United Brethren church with Rev. T. C. Harper officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery.

Unaware Her Leg Amputated

PLEADING to play baseball, unaware her left leg has been amputated, Grace Marie Long, 10, of Miami, Tex., shown in a Dallas hospital with her nurse, soon will be told by her parents she cannot play baseball again. Grace Marie lost her leg as the result of an automobile accident.

Coshocton Business Men Become Special Police

Mayor Craig, Object of Indignation Meeting, Names All Aides to Prevent Further Strike Trouble

COSHOCTON, April 29.—(UP)—Mayor W. L. Craig, threatened with removal from office unless he makes it possible for employees to return to work at the Indianapolis Glove Co. plant, closed by a strike, today swore in 38 business men as special police to help him.

Incensed because officials failed to control the situation last Friday when non-strikers were attacked at the plant, Coshocton business men held an indignation meeting. Mayor Craig, Sheriff Jay Abbott and Police Chief Ray Duling, summoned to the meeting, said they lacked power to quell the disturbance.

One of the business men warned that if the city officials failed to act, removal charges would be considered.

The mayor retaliated by asking how many civilians would serve as deputies in case of another riot at the plant.

Every man in the room rose to his feet. They agreed to serve without pay and were sworn in today as special police to serve for one year and to be called in any emergency.

Non-strikers said they would attempt to return to work at the plant if they were given sufficient protection. Members of the A. F. of L. union, which has been picketing the plant, made no comment on developments.

AKRONITE SENTENCED

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—(UP)—Richard Taylor, 42, Akron, O., today was sentenced to 25 to 50 years imprisonment for the kidnaping of 10-year-old Henry T. Koch, Jr., son of an Allentown department store executive.

RELIEF CLIMAX NEAR

TRENTON, N. J., April 29.—(UP)—A showdown on occupation of the New Jersey state assembly chamber by 100 "hunger marchers" was promised today when John Paul announced he would introduce a resolution tonight demanding that the squatters be cleared out.

16 PLOTS PLOWED FOR CITY RELIEF GARDENS

Land owned by the Circleville Industrial Co., granted to Mayor W. J. Graham for his "relief garden" program, has been plowed and divided into sixteen plots, fifteen of which have been allotted to city relief clients.

The land is located along Barnes-ave. Mayor Graham assumed the expense for plowing the ground. He said the land had been granted to responsible workers and he was considering a plan to award a prize to the worker having the finest garden this summer.

BRIDGE, TO RAIDERS, SAME AS FAN TAN

NEW YORK, April 29.—(UP)—Bridge fans learned today that police make no distinction among bridge, dice or poker as games of chance. Some of the best known bridge instructors in the city were under gambling charges after a precedent-shattering raid.

Protests of bridge experts went unheard. Alfred Scheinwald, associate editor of the Bridge World, said the raid on the Lum Joy bridge studio last night was "an unbelievable outrage." That bridge was "a game of skill and science" and the stakes were unimportant.

"They lose their money," was the police reply, "and bridge is no different to us than Chinese fan-tan."

CONVICT NAMED BANDIT LEADER

Lombardo, 20, Who Fled Prison Linked to Lima Holdup

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 29.—(UP)—Search for three desperadoes charged with slaying an Indianapolis police sergeant was intensified today as federal agents, state police and local authorities joined in the greatest Indiana manhunt since the days of John Dillinger.

Authorities were convinced they were trailing a vicious gang of escaped criminals because of their cleverness in covering the trail.

Several automobiles believed used by the gang were found burned in order that no fingerprints would be left.

The manhunt started Monday night soon after Sergt. Richard Rivers, 40, was shot as he leaped from a radio car in an effort to apprehend the bandits.

Three gangsters had called at the home of Dr. E. E. Rose late Monday to obtain medical aid for a companion, believed wounded during a gun battle with police, who interrupted the robbery of a jewelry store at Lima, O., earlier.

The men were believed headed by Joe Lombardo, 20, who escaped from the Carlinville, Ill., jail last week with four other prisoners.

Three men taken at Huntington by state police were exonerated. They were Fred Hillen, 25, Detroit, Mich.; John Stanley, San Jose, Calif.; and John Schroeder, Dayton, O.

INDICTED DRIVER CLAIMS PARKER KIDNAP "BRAINS"

NEW YORK, April 29.—(UP)—A taxicab driver's confession that the promise of a job on the New Jersey state police force induced him to participate in the kidnaping of Paul H. Wendel, a by-product of the Lindbergh kidnaping case, connected the crime closely today to high circles of Jersey politics.

The confession came from Harry Weiss, 27, whose wife betrayed him to police in Youngstown, O., yesterday "to save him from being murdered to shut his mouth." A Brooklyn grand jury indicted him and four other men on charges of kidnaping and assault last week.

District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan announced after questioning Weiss from 10:15 o'clock last night until 1:30 a. m. that he had made a full admission of a part in kidnaping Wendel and named Ellis H. Parker Jr., of Mt. Holly, N. J., as the "brains" and "finger man" of the crime.

ELECTION BOARD OFFICE TO HELP ABSENT VOTERS

For the convenience of absent and disabled voters, the county election board office will be open daily from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 1:30 to 5 p. m. The deadline for filing these ballots is May 8 at 6:30 p. m. Thirteen had been filed Wednesday.

Mrs. Henry McCrady is assisting Mr. Johnson in taking the ballots.

VOTE IS 267-0 DESPITE PLEAS OF U. S. CHAMBER

Senate to Open Public Hearings at Once on $800,000 Measure

CHANGES POSSIBLE

Corporations Most Affected By Bill; Business Men Lead Attack

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(UP)—Voting under close administration control, the house swiftly passed the new $800,000 tax bill and sent it to the senate for further consideration. The vote was 267-0.

In the face of the "steamroller" charges being leveled by the Chamber of Commerce and other business groups, the house passed the bill in the exact form made by the Democratic majority. The bill, however, does not restore the business tax cut achieved by the Chamber of Commerce in the last congressional session. Immediate action is expected.

Tomorrow the senate committee begins open hearings on the bill. Major changes are expected to be made, although consideration is expected to be expedited in the interest of early adjournment.

Passage of the tax bill leaves the house only two measures on its calendar—the new supply bill and the relief-deficiency income proposal.

The tax bill provides a far-reaching revision of the present system of corporate taxes designed to yield $820,000,000. In place of a graduated tax ranging up to 15 per cent, it substitutes heavy levies on corporations intended to force them to pay out profits in the form of dividends.

The dividends then are taxed under normal and surtax rates on individual incomes. It also carries a "windfall" tax on unpaid pre-war taxes intended to yield about $100,000,000 and temporary continuation of the capital stock and excess profits tax to yield $83,000,000.

The corporate tax change will be the chief point of the Chamber of Commerce attack.

C. of C. Dissatisfied

Fred H. Clausen and Roy O. Osgood, spokesmen for the chamber on government fiscal matters, characterized the plan as "impractical, unworkable, contrary to accepted canons of taxation" and "destructive of business progress." Republican criticism was directed both at the corporate tax plan itself and the tactics of the majority in rushing the bill through the house.

After 16 hours of general debate, the 236-page bill was read for amendment so rapidly that some members with proposed amendments were unable to offer their suggested changes. The only amendments accepted by the house were three sponsored by the ways and means committee and designed primarily to guarantee that the bill yielded as much revenue as was estimated.

CLIFTON WANTS HOUSE, DOZEN OTHERS LEARN

Harold Clifton is trying to find a 5-roomed house.

He placed a classified advertisement in Tuesday's Herald, "Room for rent", and many persons believed Mr. Clifton had a large rent. He was literally sitting with telephone calls Tuesday morning from persons who were willing to pay almost any price for a 5-roomed house. He was to rent, though.

This is another instance of Clifton's business acumen.

all Tales

CHARLIE RADCLIFF has had a lot of prisoners in his jail during his term of office, but the best story that has come from that gang was told today. The sheriff has always had a reputation for rigid enforcement of all laws concerning imprisonment, and his food bill has been as low as possible, but for some reason or other each prisoner who leaves the institution is "for" the sheriff.

Charlie heard the other day that one of the prisoners had expressed displeasure about something, so the sheriff, always obliging, went to him and said: "We've given you fellows radio music and we've taken pretty good care of you, now what else do you want?"

"How about a cross country race?" asked one of the prisoners.

12 AT HORSE RITES
EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., April 29.—(UP)—A dozen persons attended the funeral services for Plumed Knight, 4-year-old, 5-gaited show horse owned by C. P. Cauthorn. Walter Ross, trainer who had spent three sleepless days and nights attempting to nurse the horse through an attack of pneumonia, broke down and wept.

McConnell to Preside
The Methodist Federation for Social Service, an unofficial body which recommends to the general conference a possible course of action on social problems such as the liquor, liquor and capital, was to meet today. Bishop Francis J. McConnell of New York, president of the federation, is to preside.

The proposed Methodist merger would unite more than 8,000,000 church members throughout the world, joining together the Methodist Episcopal church, which has 4,296,000 members, the Methodist Episcopal Church South, 2,725,000 members, and the Methodist Protestant church, with 1,000,000 members.

Approved by the Methodist Episcopal church here, the church conference will be considered at the southern church at its conference next year, and by the Methodist Protestant church in 1940.

At least five and probably seven Methodist Episcopal bishops are expected to be retired during the general conference.

Those retiring because of having reached the age limit are Bishops Albert Welch of China, J. W. Robinson of India, E. S. Johnson of South Africa, F. T. Kenney of Atlanta, Ga., and M. W. Clair of Washington, Ky.

Two Ask Retirement
Two who have announced their intention of requesting retirement are Bishops G. A. Miller of Chile and F. D. Lee of Omaha, Neb.

Candidates for election to the synod include Dr. Joseph M. M. Lewis, Washington, D. C.; Dr. J. W. Oliver Hartman, Boston; G. Bromley Oxnam, president of Depauw university, Greensburg, Ind.; Dr. Harry Earl Woolf, editor of the National Methodist Press; Dr. John Magee, president of Boston university. From two to six bishops are expected to be elected.

HERE'S A PIGEON TO HAVE!

Blue Boy Carries Street Car Pass From One Member of Family to Another, Saving Over $60 a Year

PORTLAND, Ore.—You've probably never heard of Blue Boy, but he's outsmarting the street car company here. And how many straphangers wouldn't like to do that?

Best of all, he's saving lots of money for the Kubat family here. Each time he wings his way from the Kubat shoe repair shop downtown to their home in the suburbs—eight miles as pigeons fly—he saves them 10 cents, the price of one street car fare!

Blue Boy is a three-year-old homing pigeon. With 18 others, he is the personal property of Urban Kubat, 19, who, with his father, operates a shoe repair shop. His fame comes as a street car pass carrier. (A weekly street car pass costs Portlanders $1.25.)

This is a Pigeon to Have!

Each week day morning, Urban goes to the pigeon loft, gets Blue Boy, puts him into a "carry-all" and hops the corner street car, using the family's weekly pass. Then when he gets downtown and has opened his father's shop, the pass is tucked into a small leather case under Blue Boy's wing, and Blue Boy hits the aerial trail for home, with all the dispatch of a mail plane.

Rain, snow or fog, about four minutes later, he drops in for a two-point landing at the family loft, and says good morning to Mrs. and the little Blue Boys and gals.

But Blue Boy's travels for the day have just begun. A. R. Kubat, Urban's father, by this time has had his breakfast. He removes the pass, also places Blue Boy into a "cover-all," sometimes a paper sack, and sallies forth to catch the next street car to town. He uses the family pass.

Then the Mrs.!

The operation of putting the pass back into the case is repeated, and with the same enthusiasm Blue Boy hastens home. By noon-time, Mrs. Kubat loads a lunch basket and goes through the same operation, but the pass is kept downtown, so two members must pay their fares home. Because, as Urban says, the system works on a "one-way" basis as far as Blue Boy is concerned. He's a one-way bird!

Occasionally, though, when Urban's sister desires to go to town, Blue Boy makes another trip, but he doesn't mind because he seems to love flying over skyscrapers.

Readily you can figure just how much Blue Boy saves the Kubat family annually. It's well over $60. Not much care either, is Blue Boy. When he is released downtown he goes home and never has been known to do any philandering enroute with the many pigeons which feed in Portland streets!

Credit Goes to Boy

The family gives all credit for this money-saving procedure to Urban, who has made homing pigeons his hobby for more than eight years. Blue Boy, as well as others in the home roost, are of the exclusive Logan, pure bred strain.

Often, too, Blue Boy is called upon for emergency work. The family has no telephone and when Urban goes visiting sometimes Blue Boy goes along. When he determines what time he will be home he sends a message so that supper will not be kept waiting. And other members of the family use the service. If the strain becomes too great, Brownie, Joe and other companions of the pigeon loft are pressed into service.

The Portland Traction company is gallant concerning Blue Boy.

William H. Lines, company treasurer, has congratulated Urban on his originality, and just to show that the company is game in the crisis, adds:

"If low ceilings, poor visibility

Urban Kubat of Portland, Ore., releases Blue Boy, homing pigeon, which daily carries the family street car pass home for use by other members of the family.

KNOX SUPPORTERS CLAIM 153 CONVENTION BALLOT

MOSES REPORTS MIDWEST POWER OF MAN GROWS

Hoover Among Those Believing Publisher to Gradually Gain Strength

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(UP)—Supporters of Frank Knox today claimed for him a minimum of 153 votes so far in the Republican National convention which will convene June 9 in Cleveland.

The claim was accompanied by an intimation that the campaign activities of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas merited senate investigation.

Former Sen. George H. Moses of New Hampshire offered the estimate of Knox delegate strength as of today, six weeks before the convention meets.

Moses is rated one of the smartest politicians of this generation and his claim will receive immediate and interested attention of other Republican presidential camps.

Kansan Not Named

The Moses statement appeared, also, to add Knox or at least some of his backers to the stop-Landon movement now developing on several fronts. Moses did not name the Kansas Governor but at no other G.O.P. aspirant could have been aimed the following paragraph:

"Most of these delegates (pledged to Knox) entered the race in their respective states because of their belief in Col. Knox as a candidate. Without exception these delegates are men and women of standing in their communities, of long time Republicanism, and so placed that an election could not be denied to them.

It is evident that the support of a group of this character, especially in a convention such as that at Cleveland is bound to be, has much more possibilities than a group of support built up by ballyhoo and propaganda, and developed by methods which certainly will undergo investigation by the senate committee already set for the purpose of scrutinizing election practices."

Knox was quoted recently as having said the Republican contest lay between himself and Landon. There appeared to be a working agreement between Knox and Landon supporters in Ohio where a "favorite son" slate of delegates pledged to Robert A. Taft, son of the late president, was so drawn that the two bona fide candidates would inherit about equally when the break came. That was a coalition against Sen. William E. Borah who has entered the Ohio presidential primary against all comers.

Moses' statement directed attention to the fact that there was considerably more behind the Knox candidacy than a desire for the presidency. Other Republican leaders in a position to know the facts recently have been saying privately that Knox would appear in Cleveland with much more delegate strength than most observers expected. Among persons making that prediction is former President Hoover.

TRACTION CRASH BEING STUDIED

Motorman, Passenger Dead in Urbana Collision

URBANA, April 29.—(UP)—Investigation of a traction car collision near here yesterday in which a motorman and a passenger were fatally hurt and 13 other persons injured less seriously was continued today by the coroner, officials of the Cincinnati & Lake Erie railroad and public utilities commission representatives.

Charles F. Patterson of Springfield, motorman of one of the interurban cars which collided head-on at a curve on Donovan's Hill, south of here, died shortly after the accident. E. H. Shroyer, 76, of Degraff, died in a hospital last evening from a crushed chest and broken leg.

The other 13 persons, including Jesse K. Linkhart of Lima, motorman of the other car, were expected to recover.

Dr. David H. Moore, county coroner, said he had been informed by James Duncan of Lima, C. & L. E. road superintendent, that Patterson failed to make a regular stop at a siding near the scene of the collision to wait for the other car to pass.

PAY INCREASE SOUGHT

NEW YORK, April 29.—(UP)—Mysteries of how a fire started Sunday in the basement of the Brooklyn Hebrew home for the aged were solved today. William Nathan, 27-year-old kitchen helper, admitted that he started it, "discovered" it, and extinguished it after raising an alarm. He had hoped, he said, that the home management would reward him for her "heroism" with a wage increase.

SHRINE PARADES AT 1 ON FRIDAY

Six Temples of State Take Part in Ceremony

COLUMBUS, April 29.—Start early if you expect to visit Columbus Friday to see the Shrine parade that will be held in connection with the All-Ohio Ceremonial to be conducted by the six temples of the State at the coliseum at the Ohio State fair grounds.

The parade will move promptly at 1 p. m.

More than 10,000 Shriners are expected for the ceremonial. Representatives from more than 50 Shrine clubs of the state will be among the visitors.

There will be more than 2000 uniformed men in line representing the six Temples. There will be bands, drum corps, chanters and horists in flashy uniforms.

In addition to Aladdin temple, other temples taking part include Syrian of Cincinnati; Antioch of Dayton; Zenobia of Toledo; Al Koran of Cleveland and Tadmor of Akron.

Chester C. Cook, Potentate of Aladdin temple, will be the illustrious Potentate in charge of the ceremonial while the potentates of the various temples taking part will be members of his divan. More than 200 candidates will be initiated.

WOMAN CHOSEN TO DIRECT NEW CHILDREN POST

COLUMBUS, April 29.—(UP)—Appointment of Miss Esther McClain, Columbus, as director of the new division of aid for dependent children was announced today by Henry J. Robison, coordinator of social and welfare work in Ohio.

Miss McClain, associated with the state charities division for 17 years, will administer funds provided by both state and federal governments for care of dependent children. She will assist child welfare agencies in arranging their programs under social security legislation affecting children.

WASHINGTON OLDFIELD DIES OF COMPLICATIONS

He leaves his wife, Mary, and one adopted daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Higgins of Akron.

Burial will be in Green Summit cemetery in Adelphi by H. E. Deffenbaugh and Son.

CARDS STAND BLAME

ST. LOUIS, April 29.—(UP)—If your bridge partner overbids his hearts or diamonds, blame it on the spots on the cards. Dr. Herbert Dickson of St. Louis told Missouri optometrists, "the tendency to overbid is exaggerated by the fact red requires greater eye exertion to be seen clearly. A handful of red cards cannot be analyzed as easily as clubs or spades."

Helen Hayes is firmly convinced that we enjoy things more when we have to pay more for them. All of which goes to prove that Helen is a great little actress who is a little weak on psychology.

Two Years Pass, June Robles Forgets Kidnaping, but G-Men Keep Hunting

One Man Indicted but He Has Been Out on Bail a Year

TUCSON, Ariz.—June Robles smiles today, her harrowing experiences as a shackled victim of kidnapers two years ago but a dream-like memory that seems unreal.

Thrust into a small sedan by a man who told her he was taking her to her father's store in Tucson, June was taken nine miles from the city. Her little legs were chained to an iron coffin buried in the sun-blistered desert. Nineteen days she stayed alone in the gloomy, terrifying pit. The greatest manhunt in the history of the southwest followed. Her abductors demanded $15,000 ransom from her father, Fernando, owner of an electrical goods store.

Three Terrible Weeks

June doesn't like to talk about it now, or think about it. When she was abruptly snatched from her family, April 25, 1934, she was a happy girl of six years. Walking with her little cousin, Barney Kengla, to his home, after school had been dismissed. Then followed almost three weeks of torturing uncertainty, her only company the loathsome, crawling insect life of the desert. A few moldy pieces of bread, a little jam, rotting fruit and a little water provided by her heartless kidnapers saved her from starvation.

She doesn't want to remember it. Newspapersmen, inured to the horrors of crimes, refrain from asking her questions about her experiences that may make her remember her frightful imprisonment that lasted until she was found by her uncle, Carlos Robles, and County Attorney Clarence Houston, who came upon her after following vague directions given in an anonymous letter from Chicago.

Scores Good Grades

June prefers, instead, to tell you how well she is doing in school. She will show you her fourth grade report card from the wall—enclosed immaculate Heart academy, proudly pointing to her high marks of one's and two's. She will show you the rabbits, brown Marigold and white Peter, that she and her little five-year-old sister, Sylvia, are raising. She'll tell you about the school entertainment in which she hopes to dance.

She'll tell you that she'll soon be nine years old, on June 11. And if you ask her what she wants to be when she grows up, she'll answer: "I want to be a mother like my mother!" But she doesn't want to talk about the kidnaping.

While June said that she hoped "they would catch those awful men who kidnaped me and put them in jail," the second anniversary (April 25) of her abduction has just passed without the department of justice having definitely accused anyone of the infamous crime.

Who were the three men June described? The box in which the tiny victim was held prisoner has long been dismantled and thoroughly investigated by the department of justice for finger prints or any other clue, however small. G-men are still seen in Tucson, quietly pursuing leads which they will not discuss.

Oscar H. Robson, former schoolmate of Fernando Robles, June's father, a heavy man in his early thirties, stands indicted by a federal grand jury, accused of having written the extortion letter demanding the ransom payment. And though the indictment is nearly a year old, the United States district attorney's office seems to be in no hurry to bring Robson to trial.

As Robson goes about his business, free on $5,000 bond, people in the city of Tucson speculate whether he will ever go to trial. They wonder too, whether Robson actually was involved and whether the kidnaping case ever will be solved.

Mussolini, who once said his only interest was the civilizing of the Ethiopians, now orders their annihilation. Apparently, he is a man of diverse moods.

VOLCANO AGAIN SPREADS TERROR

Mauna Loa in Action, Radio Operator Reports

HILO, T. H., April 29.—(UP)—Confirmation was given today to reports a new lava flow broken out on Mokuaweoweo, 14,000-foot summit crater of the Hawaiian volcano, Mauna Loa.

Ralph Buzzard, Mutual Telephone Co. radio operator stationed at Waikiki, several miles from the volcano, drove toward the scene of the renewed activity and reported the outbreak was limited to a small area. The flow, which sent a spray of lava down the mountain and for a time threatened the water supply of the city of Hilo.

Buzzard sighted the glowing glow on the Mauna Loa mountain last night, but was unable to establish location of the outbreak because of a dense fog.

Last November's flow from the huge mountain ceased only when U. S. army fliers, directed by Dr. Thomas A. Jaggar, government volcanologist, bombed the source of the flow.

CONGRESS

will appreciate your support on May 12th, 1936 at the primary election.

Briefly his platform includes following the party principles as stated in the last Democratic platform and the policies of the national administration and President Roosevelt looking toward care of the unfortunate and dependent Americans and the interests of the farmer, laborer, miner and under-privileged classes.

His supporters are confident of his success at the primary. It is predicted he will secure an almost unanimous vote in Ross County as well as a comfortable plurality in two other counties of the five in the District, and it is apparent that the large vote in the other two counties should make him easily the victor. His popularity at home (Ross County) makes him the surest to win at the November election.

Older residents of the District recall that his father former Congressman Horatio C. Claypool served the District with distinction and honor. Harold K. Claypool has never before sought public office having been engaged solely in the manufacture and sale of blank books which is his only business interest and in which he has been successful. He has been long interested, however, in the affairs of government and in the welfare of labor and agriculture.

If Nominated and Elected He Will Represent Only the Interests of the Great Common People of His District

Tibbett to Sing Sunday

in Rapee; Then Rest

Will Portray "Music Master" in Radio Theatre Hour Monday Evening; Vallee to Have Star Guest

Ernest Tibbett, great American baritone of the Metropolitan Opera, will sing as soloist of the Concerts program Sunday, May 3, probably his last appearance via radio during the current musical season. Immediately following the concert he plans to go to his home in Connecticut to rest and recuperate.

Tibbett will be heard with the 70-piece Symphony Orchestra directed by Erno Rapee in the concert. The program will be broadcast by the radio hook-up of the NBC network between 9 and 10 p. m.

Music Master

Ernest Tibbett, lovable screen actor who has just won the greatest success of his career in "The Country Doctor" with the Dionne quintuplets, stars in the Radio Theatre on Sunday, May 3. He will play one of the best loved roles in any American drama, the old German teacher in Charles Klein's success, "The Music Master," which will be broadcast over a WABC-CBS network at 8 p. m. (EST), is the story of Herr Anton von Barwig, a music teacher who has come to America in search of his wife. Years before von Barwig's wife had left him, taking their daughter with her. Finally he discovers that the woman is now a member of a wealthy American family and in love with a young man of her class. The story reaches a high dramatic climax when the daughter, Helen, discovers that the music master is her father.

Thursdays To Sing
When Rudy Valle first began singing guest stars in his Variety show, he was a young American soprano auditioned for the show. This was almost four years later she was asked to appear. Her name is Natalie Bodanskaya and she will appear in the broadcast on Thursday, April 30.
Bodanskaya was recently announced as a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company for the next spring season which opens next month. Strangely enough almost four years ago she disappeared since her first tryout in the Valle Hour, the audience was very successful. A guest appearance on the show was arranged for her when she suddenly dropped out of sight. A long time she gave up public appearances entirely to devote herself to musical studies.

4 POSITIVE TO RACE IN DERBY; NED REIGH OUT

Brevity Remains Favorite;
Indian Broom Runs Splendid Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29.—(UP)—Fourteen positive starters loomed today for the 62nd running of the Kentucky derby on Saturday.

Brevity remains the favorite, with Granville and Teufel, coupled as an entry, second choice. Colonel E. R. Bradley's entry of Bien Joli and Banister probably will be third choice.

The other positive starters are Indian Broom, He Did, Gold Seeker, Grand Slam, The Fighter, Merry Pete, Bold Venture, Sanreal and Silas.

Among the probable starters are Forest Play, coupled with Grand Slam and Count Morse.

Ned Reigh Out

Sharpe Kilmer's Ned Reigh and Mrs. P. A. B. Widen's Dnieper were declared out yesterday. Ned Reigh contracted shipping fever" after his journey from New York and Trainer Pete Coyne, decided not to run Dnieper after he ran fourth in the Derby trial.

He Did's victory in the Derby trial yesterday was unimpressive despite the thrilling finish. Jockey Charlie Kurtsinger, who won the derby on Twenty Grand in 1931 in record time, had to go to the batom around the stretch turn and just was able to get He Did up to win by a nose from Sanreal.

Grand Slam, one of the four horses which received heavy play in the trial that he couldn't go the derby route of a mile and a quarter. He got out in front in the stretch, but couldn't stay there, and finished third.

Indian Broom, the far west's contender, is the favorite of the long-shot players. The colt, a lastoff from the stable of Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloan, worked a mile and an eighth yesterday in 1:53, the most impressive workout any of the derby candidates have shown here. He was eased up the eighth after doing the mile in 1:05.

Carnival Night is on the derby celebration program tonight. Two core bands will take part in the parade through the narrow streets.

About This And That In Many Sports

Grid Prices Up

Announcement Tuesday of a boost in prices for Ohio State's football games does not strike a popular chord with Pickaway countians who annually travel often to the big horseshoe.—In previous years there has been considerable cry about the tag put on gridiron tickets.—Season books have been boosted from $9.50 to $10 for reserved seats, and from $11.50 to $13.50 for box seats.—The two opening games are outstanding, thus the boost in the fare.—New York U. on Oct. will demand $2.50 reserved, $3.50 box, and $1.10 general admission, while the same price will prevail for the Pittsburgh game a week later.—Top prices of the year are on the Michigan game Nov. 21 when general admission is $2.20, reserved $3, and box $4.

Coach "Javelinist"

Eugene Oberst, recently named assistant football coach at John Carroll University, won fourth place in the javelin throw at the 1924 Olympic games at Paris.—Oberst, a former Notre Dame star, was the first American ever to place in the event since the resumption of the games in 1896.—A representative of either Finland or Sweden has taken first place in the javelin at each of the seven games at which it has been a part of the program.

Ohioans at Cornell

Three Ohio boys are members of the varsity crew at Cornell. They are Albert Hartman, Mansfield; James Forbes, Cleveland; and Charles Lockart, Youngstown.

Talos Hits Baseball

Ernie Talos, Ohio Wesleyan baseball star, may sign with the Zanesville team of the Mid-Atlantic league at the close of the present school year.—Zanesville is a farm of the Cleveland Indians.—A short-stop, Talos has showed great promise.—He recently hit three successive home runs in a game against Dayton.—Talos was a member of the All-Buckeye conference basketball team last season.

Ohio Owns Record

Ohio State's recent victories in the Penn Relays at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, gave the Bucks a total of 14 relay championships and 15 in individual titles at the carnival.—Jesse Owens' record in the 100 meter dash increased the marks Ohio holds to five. The Bucks have been competitors at Penn since 1919.

Heinrich Makes Good

One of the early season stars of the minors who appears headed for a major league berth next season is Tommy Heinrich, a Massillon boy, playing with New Orleans in the Southern Association.—Heinrich is the property of the Cleveland Indians.—Tommy hit .337 last season for Zanesville, in the Mid-Atlantic league.

MINORS PROTEST MAJORS' AIRING BASEBALL FRAYS

CHICAGO, April 29.—(UP)—Answering vigorous protests that radio description of major league games cut down attendance in the minors, Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis Tuesday ordered all major and minor league clubs to refrain from making further arrangements or commitments for broadcasting games.

Judge Landis handed down his opinion after a long conference with Will Harridge, president of the American league; Ford Frick, president of the National league, and George Trautman, American association head.

Several minor league clubs claimed their territorial rights were invaded by the broadcasts.

HIGH HARRIERS INVADE ATHENS FOR FAST MEET

Griffith to Take Part in 120-Yard Low Hurdles; Jenkins May Not Go

Several Circleville high school athletes will take part in the Ohio university relays Saturday at Athens. Coach Jack Landrum has selected several of his boys to take part.

John Griffith, central district hurdling champion, will take part in 120-yard low hurdles. This event will be somewhat new to him since he has been running 120-yard high and 220-yard low hurdles. Neither of these events will be staged in the Athens meet.

There is a possibility that John Jenkins, middle distance runner, will not make the trip. He could probably win some points in the 440-yard dash and half-mile.

If Jenkins does make the trip he will run his pet events and will take part in a medley relay. In this event, one of the most colorful of the entire meet, Griffith will run the 220-yard dash, Kenny Smith the 440, Jenkins the half mile, and Will Friley the mile.

Some of the outstanding runners in Ohio and West Virginia are expected to take part in the Athens meet.

DEMPESEY TO REFEREE IN CINCINNATI, LOUISVILLE

CINCINNATI, April 28.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, will referee a fight program at Music Hall here tonight.

The headline bout on the program is between Joe Mueller of Cincinnati and King Hannibal of Indianapolis.

Following his appearance here Dempsey will go to Louisville, Ky., where he will referee the Derby-Eve fight between Barney Ross, world's welterweight champion, and Chuck Woods of Detroit.

YESTERDAY'S HERO: Leo Norris, Philadelphia shortstop, who had a perfect day at bat, driving in four runs and scoring two himself on a home run, a double and three singles in five attemps.

Experts Pick Metcalfe To Feature Olympics

Snyder and Jennings Believe Marquette Negro Better Than Owens or Peacock for Berlin Events

CHICAGO, April 29.—(UP)—Trainers of America's two "fastest humans," Ralph Metcalfe and Jesse Owens, predicted today that Metcalfe, veteran of the last Olympics, will be the sprint sensation of the 1936 Berlin games.

Although he virtually retired from competition to spend a quiet winter corrections a weakness in the short dash events, the former Marquette University giant was nominated over his more active negro rivals—Owens and the Ohio State flyer's persistent conqueror, Bulace Peacock of Temple.

Larry Snyder, who handles Owens as head track coach at Ohio State said:

"Metcalfe should have the edge over them all at Berlin. I doubt very much whether Jesse's idleness during the winter season did him any good and besides, most European tracks are slow. Slow tracks and Jesse's seven foot stride don't mix."

Conrad Jennings, athletic director at Marquette, who spotted Metcalfe as a matured member of the Tilden Tech (Chicago) high school track team, indicated his star pupil will be near his peak for the Olympic trials and will reach the top just at the proper moment next summer at Berlin.

Metcalfe, who stayed in condition all winter, refused to subject himself to a long competitive grind during the indoor season. The big negro speedster responds, so quickly to rigid training his actual drive for the Olympic trials will not start until some time in May.

"This season, Metcalfe will have at least three tough Americans to beat—Owens, Peacock and Ben Johnson of Columbia," Jennings conceded. "If he can keep beating off their challenges, he'll have little trouble winning the Olympic dashes. I don't look for any severe competition from other nations."

ENTRIES FOR OPEN GOLF TITLE ESTABLISH MARK

NEW YORK, April 29.—(UP)—Entries for the 1936 United States Open golf championship broke the former record set in 1930, it was announced today by U. S. G. A. officials.

A total of 1185 entries were received, the first unofficial check showed, surpassing the 1177 entrants of 1930 and the 1125 last year.

Exemptions from qualifying rounds which will be played in 28 cities May 11 have been announced for the 30 low scores last year at Oakmont as well as for visiting professionals. Two of the latter class, Toichiro Toda and Selsui Chin of Japan, have entered.

a sweep of the four-game series. Spencer held the Colonels to 8 hits. The Saints got 15 off Lamaster, knocked out in the 5-run fifth inning, and Terry.

Indianapolis downed Minneapolis 5 to 4, Turner out-performing Bean on the mound. The Indian hurler held the Millers to 7 safeties while Bean was dishing out 11 to the winners.

arrange programs to attract young people to church. "You pastors report the number of persons who have joined your church but you fail to report the number that have dropped out," he said. He referred to the origin of life as presented by preachers and compared scientific discoveries. "Don't think the church can go on with stories that haven't a scientific basis," the pastor said. "We know the truth and we can't preach lies." "We are spending money for preachers" and music to tickle adults."

"We must demonstrate democracy is a better form of government or we can not stop Communism. Democracy is on trial and Christianity is 'the only hope of the world.'"

In closing his address Dr. Thomas referred to the liquor problem with the quotation, "Old bartenders would bow their heads in shame at the modern saloons."

Dr. E. L. Motter, Columbus, conference representative of White Cross hospital, spoke on the splendid work performed by the institution. He urged pastors and laymen to boost the financial program.

Due to the length of the afternoon program the address of Dr. McClure on "Some District Goals" was cancelled. The afternoon service opened with a song service in charge of Robert M. Morris, New Holland. The church choir sang "Seek Ye the Lord" and the afternoon session closed with communion.

Pastors voted to present the credentials of Rev. J. M. Brown, pastor of the Commercial Point church, to the conference relations committee for consideration as a Methodist pastor. The Rev. Mr. Brown is a pastor of the Congregational church and joined the Methodist church two years ago. One year ago he was given a charge and has performed splendid work. His church received recognition at the conference for having the largest number of delegates.

NRA-Planned?

of an NRA was seen with the report from Washington that Donald R. Riechberg, above, former National Recovery Act administrator, is working on plans for a new "Blue Eagle" set-up along the lines hinted at by President Roosevelt in his recent Baltimore speech. While making no announcements, Riechberg did reveal that an effective form of "industrial co-operation" can be evolved without constitutional change. The chief step in this, he explained, would be enactment of a law setting forth a definite economic policy on hours, wages and fair trade practices.
